

Siobhán McGrath is the Secretary General of European Young Engineers (EYE), a volunteer network of young engineering professionals and students sharing knowledge, fostering mobility and developing personal and professional skills. She has been volunteering within the engineering community since 2007 through Engineers Without Borders UK and Engineers Ireland. Her background is in environmental engineering and she has worked in the water industry in the UK and Ireland. She is currently a PhD student at Cranfield University in the UK.

uk.linkedin.com/in/SMcGrathCEng